GRUBBS IS GIVEN 25 YEARS

PASTOR SHOT DOWN BY ONE OF HIS FLOCK

WHOLE NATION IS ENGAGED TODAY IN TEST OF DEFENSE

Emergency Machinery of War Given Trial Run by America

RESPONSE OF MEN IS SATISFACTORY

Washington Pleased By Spirit Manifested By the Reserves

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12—The nation's defense machinery, intended for actual use only in the event of war emergency, was given its first test today, accompanied by patriotic demonstrations in every part of the United States and its possessions.

It was a limited test, the actual expansion plan of the war department being designed to cover a period of months, but dealing only with the question of personnel and not with supply equipment, housing or training. The progressive stages were consolidated into this one day.

The day's program called for a trial of the de-centralized defense machinery set up since the national defense act of 1920 was substituted for the pre-war system.

Demonstration of the new scheme of defense will signalize the separation from the military establishment at least so far as active service is involved of General John Pershing, who devoted his time since 1918 to perfecting it.

When the defense day test actually got underway today it was apparent to war department officials, after studying reports from outlying commands, that their hopes had been entirely justified by the response throughout the country from men who, for the day alone, had reported for duty to the corps area commanders.

For the day at least the navy was commanded by an officer of the army, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, its acting secretary, and the head of the war department, Secretary Weeks, came to his office as a rear admiral of the naval reserve.

Secretary Roosevelt appeared in his army uniform with the insignia of the first division with which he served in France.

When Colonel Roosevelt reported to Admiral Weeks in the war secretary's office he was assigned to duty for the day to the secretary's staff and directed to report later to participate in a parade here.

A flight over Washington and over the tomb of the unknown soldier at Washington was the assignment given the world fliers who were held over here for the day.

Madison Spends Fund On Drainage

Twelve thousand dollars were spent by Madison County people, the past season to have their lands drained against malaria mosquitoes by the Madison County health unit, stated Dr. B. F. Austin, county health officer for that county when on a visit here this week.

Dr. Austin stated the amount mentioned was over and above the money spent by the county and state boards of health in the war on malaria. Dr. Austin said that the official milk ordinance was in effect with good results in Madison County, except that the pasteurization plant has not yet been erected. The Madison County health unit will have a big exhibit at the Madison County fair next week, stated the health officer.

Remonstrance In Disturbance Has Tragic Sequence

(Associated Press.)
FORT PAYNE, Ala., Sept. 12.—Shot last night by a member of his congregation, the Rev. D. W. Cagle, well known minister and teacher, lies seriously wounded at a Fort Payne hospital today. Ernest Rogers, who is charged with the shooting, escaped.

It was stated by authorities who investigated the case that the minister was shot when he remonstrated with Rogers who is alleged to have created a disturbance at a church in Sylvania, a small town near here.

POSSE HUNTS WHITE SLAYER NEGRO BABE

(Associated Press)
CLANTON, Ala., Sept. 12.—A posse is in pursuit of an unidentified white man who today shot and killed an infant of A. W. Jackson, a negro, after the stranger is said to have become angry because food offered him at the Jackson home did not suit his taste.

The man is said to have fired into a group of Jackson's children, killing the baby.

A posse, made up largely of white men of the community, followed the stranger in close pursuit.

Officers broadcast word to all neighboring towns, asking aid in the search.

District Agent Is Twin City Visitor
J. T. High, district farm agent, who was here for the Albany-Decatur barbecue and who attended the Morgan County farm bureau meeting in Hartsville Friday, stated that while his work was in the "production department" of farmer activities, that he was greatly elated over the success of the "marketing end," and commended the work of the cotton, hay and egg associations of the Alabama farm bureau.

Mr. High stated that the extension department, in the full knowledge that merely producing good crops was of little value unless they are properly marketed, was doing all within its power to "hold up the hands of such men as President Edward A. O'Neal."

Mr. O'Neal is the President of the Alabama Farm Bureau. P. O. Davis, the efficient editor-in-chief for the farm extension service publications in Alabama is traveling with Mr. High throughout the Tennessee Valley.

Woman and Child Walked 8 Miles to Attend Picnic

Among the interesting visitors at the community barbecue and picnic Thursday was a woman, apparently well up in years, and a child of about seven years, who walked eight miles to attend the affair.

Mrs. W. B. Edmundson, ever on the alert to do anything for the comfort of the thousands of guests saw the woman and child and spoke to them. The visitor asked that she might be directed to a seat as she was very tired. Mrs. Edmundson immediately found a place where the woman and child might rest.

"We thought when we got on the pike we might be able to get a ride," the visitor said, "but we didn't and just kept walking. We walked eight miles to be here today."

CHEKIANGS TAKE THE TOWN OF IHING

(Associated Press)
SHANGHAI, Sept. 12.—The Chekiang forces, defending Shanghai, operating on the west front of this city have captured the town of Ihing compelling the Kiangsu army in that sector to fall back toward Changchow.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 12.—Drenching rain, a cessation of fighting in the flooded fields west of here, movement of reinforcements to the fighting front, and reports indicating that the warring factions battling for possession of Shanghai would renew hostilities with greater vigor when the storm was over, these were the overnight developments in the war between rival military governors.

On the basis of the number of wounded being returned from the front, spirited fighting yesterday took place at Ihing, 100 miles southwest of Shanghai.

SEEKING TO LURE PEST FROM COTTON

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Exceedingly hopeful results have been obtained by scientists of the department of agriculture in the search for an attraction to coax the boll weevil from cotton plants to its destruction.

The boll weevil which damages the cotton crop to the extent of many millions of dollars each year, they find, feeds exclusively on cotton plants. In attempting to locate the substance of attraction to the boll weevil the government's scientists have been at work for about two years.

They have succeeded in isolating a number of promising substances in the field tests conducted at the Tallulah, La., boll weevil laboratory this summer. Some of the substances possess qualities of attraction for the boll weevil apparently slightly superior to those of the cotton plant itself.

GREAT FINDS MADE AT INDIAN MOUNDS NEAR TOWN CREEK

Pre-Columbian Relics of Great Interest Discovered

WATER SOON TO OVERFLOW SCENE
Site Used by the Indians Many Years Ago As Camping Place

BY ROY G. HORTON
Editor Lawrence County Times

The exploration of the many Indian mounds near the mouth of Town Creek this county, which is going forward at a rapid rate under the expert supervision of Gerard Fowke, of the Bureau of Ethnology of the Smithsonian Institute of Washington and one of the foremost archaeologists of the day, is marked by daily discoveries of pre-Columbian relics of great interest.

Through the efforts of the Tennessee Valley Historical society, provision was made for the exploration of these mounds some weeks ago and the work is being rushed to completion since the rising waters from Wilson Dam will soon overflow them and bury them forever from the curious eyes of the world. Even now the waters are silently creeping over the rocks and will soon forever still the voice of the rushing stream as it plunges over and around historic Muscle Shoals, and sings its song of power heard all over the expanse of the nation. Heard throughout countless ages, its pure, sweet voice, singing its lullaby to all nature soon will cease—a martyr to progress.

Rivalling in interest to the American mind, the finds in the tomb of Tut-an-kh-amen, pre-historic relics of a by-gone age and of a fading race, are daily unearthed and exposed to the light of the twentieth century. Among the important finds exhibited to a curious public are copper beads and ornaments, more valuable, no doubt, to the primitive Indian mind,

DICKIE AND BABE SPEND THEIR FIRST NIGHT IN JOLIET PRISON

Auto In Which Boys Travelled Careens off Road; Death Missed Narrowly

(Associated Press)
JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 12.—Richard Loeb will be assigned to work in the prison chair factory and Nathan Leopold in the rattan factory. Warden Whitman announced this morning. They go to work tomorrow. The announcement was made by the warden immediately after the youths had attended defense day exercises in the prison with 1,200 other prisoners.

Dressed in blue denim jackets and trousers and with their hair closely cropped, the boys sat almost in the middle of the prison auditorium. They stared straight ahead and refused to smile when other prisoners laughed at remarks of the speaker.

When they arose to pass out, all the prisoners turned to take a look at the latest occupants of the institution.

PENITENTIARY, Joliet, Ill., Sept. 12.—After their first night in prison spent in the court solitary, where all prisoners must spend their first night in the Joliet penitentiary, Dickie Loeb and Babe Leopold "dressed in" last night as prisoners numbers 9305 and 9306, faced the first day of life imprisonment for the murder of Robert

Everyone Pleased By Community Affair At Malone Park

GREATEST CROWD IN HISTORY HERE

Estimates of Throng Run as High As 12,000 People

Congratulations today were pouring in on Albany and Decatur on the success Thursday of the cities first community barbecue and picnic which was attended by thousands at Malone Park.

Estimates of the gigantic crowd varied greatly today. Many estimated that 12,000 were in attendance. Others placed the crowd at 6,000 but John P. Matlock, general chairman, stated that the number of trays of food given out, indicated an attendance of approximately 10,000. It was probably the greatest gathering of its kind ever held in North Alabama and visitors and local residents alike today were enthusiastic over the pronounced success of the event.

Herbert Hughes, who stood through out the day at an automobile entrance to the park declared there were 12,000 present: F. F. Tidwell, William V. Davidson and Prof. J. C. Tidwell placed the number in attendance at 12,000 and flatly refused to reduce their estimates.

T. E. Williams, who was one of the "water boys," for the occasion said that 200 gallons of H₂O were consumed by the thirsty thousands, to say nothing of the free lemonade consumed.

Mr. Matlock today highly praised the cooperation shown the committees by people of Albany and Decatur. He said that John C. White, of Decatur and E. W. Strother, of Albany found a liberal response when they were making their collection of funds to defray the expenses of the barbecue. He declared the members of the committees worked as one, being enlisted all "in one great cause."

He spoke glowingly also of the cooperation shown by the women of the two cities in preparation of the basket dinners and in other ways helping to make the affair a success.

The basket dinners proved a real benefit inasmuch as the meat from the seven large barbecue pits and

HARRY WILLS WINS FROM ARGENTINE

(Associated Press)

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 12.—Harry Wills battered his way to a smashing one-sided victory last night over Luis Angel Firpo in a gruelling 12-round battle before a throng estimated at 75,000 in Boyles Thirty Acres.

Dominating the fight from start to finish, with an exhibition of ring craft that completely spiked Firpo's heaviest gun, his famous right, Wills beat the giant Argentine into decisive defeat with a bruising relentless attack to the head and body.

Firpo, knocked down for a count of four in the second round, staggered in several others by lightning-like thrusts to his jaw and subjected to a succession of savage weakening drives to the body. Shorn of his chief and only potent weapon, the Argentinian fought a losing battle all the way. His gameness carried through the terrific punishment his negro rival administered, but he had not the boring skill, speed, or versatility of attack to cope with the crafty, resourceful and relentless campaign of his opponent.

No official decision was given as none is permitted under New Jersey ring laws, but there was no question of the outcome. Firpo, in the opinion of some critics, barely held his own in one round, the third, while the big majority of newspaper critics gave every round to the big negro.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Mrs. Maud L. Rigby, 42, wife of the mayor of Ormond Beach, Fla., jumped to her death from her room on the 17th floor of the Hotel Belmont this morning. The woman, according to her husband, George N. Rigby has been suffering from nervous illness for which she had come to New York for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Rigby arrived from Ormond Beach last night and Mr. Rigby sent for the Belmont house physician shortly after their arrival. Her nervous condition, he told Dr. Peter Gibbon had been aggravated by the heat at Ormond Beach and her husband had brought her here for relief. They expected to start on a tour around the world soon.

JURY DELIBERATES BUT A SHORT TIME; APPEAL IS PLANNED

Sensational Trial Ends In the Circuit Court This Morning

GRUBBS CALM AS VERDICT IS READ

Case Had Been Fought Hard By Attorneys On Both Sides

Near 10 o'clock this morning a circuit court jury announced to Judge James E. Horton, presiding judge through its foreman, S. E. Hammond of Hartsville, that the jury had found Solon A. Grubbs guilty of second degree murder as the slayer of John Hammond, and Judge Horton sentenced Grubbs to 25 years in the penitentiary.

Senator Melvin Hutson, of Grubbs' counsel gave notice that the case will be appealed to the state supreme court.

The jury announcing the findings against Grubbs had been in session, about two hours yesterday afternoon and about one hour and a half this morning.

The jury filed into the court room and confronted the court at a few minutes before ten o'clock, and in reply to the question of Judge Horton, asking if an agreement had been reached, Mr. Hammond the foreman stated there had, and then the verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree was given.

There being no move for the suspension of sentence, Judge Horton pronounced sentence, saying that Grubbs must serve a sentence of 25 years in the state prison.

The verdict was received calmly and none in the court room appeared more calm than did Grubbs himself.

He was seen to confer with one of his attorneys, sometime prior to the notice of appeal.

The jurors in the Grubbs case, spent last night in a room at a local hotel, but no sessions were held during the night, it is said. W. J. Sparkman, who for 30 years has had charge of similar juries under similar circumstances, declared the present jury "was the best behaved and gave me the least trouble of any jury for many years."

The members of the jury were: S. E. Hammond, foreman, Hartsville, M. R. Glascock, Hartsville, J. R. Holder, Lacy Springs; Jim B. Thompson, Hartsville Route 3; J. W. Brown, Falkville Route 1; Vergie Walden, Albany Route 2; Rube K. Woodard, Falkville Route 1; James E. King, Falkville Route 1; James E. King, Mottin Bluff Route 2; Payne, Hartsville; Lloyd Minter, Falkville Route 2; and John H. Russell.

Solicitors D. C. Almon and T. S. Almon are being congratulated on the fact that they secured convictions in every case in the criminal court this week.

The following parties were convicted and sent to the penitentiary at the present term of the court, to-wit:

Virgil Preuit, (col) grand larceny 2 to 4 years; Robert Harris, (col.) murder life; Lillie May Taylor, grand larceny 1 year and 1 day; Jamie Taylor (col.) murder 2nd degree, 15 years; John Hutton making liquor, 15 to 18 months; Earnest Hood, making liquor, 1 year and 1 day; Henry Peebles, making liquor, 18 months to 2 years; Howard Moore, forgery, 2 years and 1 day; Louis Harris, burglary, 1 year and 1 day; Troup Akers, forgery, 2 years and 1 day.

The circuit court juryman charged with the responsibility of determining the guilt or innocence of Solon A. Grubbs charged with the murder of John Henry Horton took a vote Thursday evening and the jury decided to rest from its labors until Friday. The twelve men were quartered in a room at the Lyons hotel, by court officials. The jury had deliberated since it retired to make up a decision at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, following the charge of Judge James E. Horton, the presiding judge.

Jury Deliberates

But A Short Time;

Appeal Is Planned

The Grubbs-Horton case was one of the most bitterly contested suits ever brought in Morgan County. Attorneys Hutson and Callahan for the defense and Almon and Almon for the state made impassioned pleas.

The defense sought to wrest a decision, by pleading the unwritten law, and citing the testimony of witnesses to the effect that Horton made as if to draw a pistol about the time Grubbs opened fire the night of June 16. The defense also showed that Horton's body had a pistol on it when the dead man was picked up by officers.

The prosecution claimed that no witness save Solon Grubbs, gave evidence tending to support the plea of self defense, and in reply to evidence of the defense to the effect that Grubbs and Horton had a shooting difficulty some two weeks before the killing, declared that whatever happened two weeks before the killing had nothing to do with the killing itself. Judge Horton's charge was declared to be a very able one.

A DAILY PRAYER.—May we seek Thy interpretation of life, and what Thou has destined us to be and not our own foolish understandings.

The instruction given by the experts on food and clothing here last week should find a quick response. Especially should the advice given as to proper foods be followed. The whole matter of better care for the body should receive careful consideration and especially by parents and heads of families.

The weights of the children should be known, and if they are found to be under weight, steps should be taken to increase their weight by proper diet and exercise. The county has a health unit; but its officials can only lead the way. The people themselves must take an active interest in their physical welfare. What would be thought of the operator of a machine, if he failed to oil it, keep it clean and running "true."

What is to be thought of people who use their bodies, with little thought or care as to their upkeep.

Doubtless many are so busy with their minds, they will not take time to think of their bodily needs, while many are so busy working with their hands they will not take time to think, what to do for their bodies. The school children are receiving more attention than ever from a physical standpoint, and this is well for the impossibility of a good mind in a poor body is evident. The following is given from an essay on "Ideals in Physical Education:"

1. To bring about a wholesome and ready response between the muscles and mind and insure good psycho-physiological reactions;
2. to promote efficiency of the circulatory system and the functions of the respiratory organs;
3. to increase the volitional control of the body through better neuro-muscular co-ordination;
4. to relieve congested venous circulation due to faulty posture in school-room, home, and at work;
5. to counteract or relieve a tired mind caused by hours of study and recitation;
6. to enliven a sluggish, or partially inefficient, vaso-motor system, through passive resistive, or active, physical activities;
7. to teach pupils fundamental laws of hygiene, both personal and home;
8. to teach preparation of food, habits of eating, dress, exercise, work and sleep.

The suggestions should and doubtless will remind that those charged with the responsibility of looking after children have a very weighty and great responsibility. It is a simple matter to enforce the ordinary rules of health upon the young and when children are grown to mature life they will rise up and bless those who taught them how to care for their health, but they will have severe criticism for those who allowed them to neglect their health when they were too young and ignorant to know its value.

Although the idea of Dr. F. P. Pettet—that on either side of railroad crossings pike roads be so built as to compel drivers to slow up in front of the crossings—was doubtless original with him, it is reported that in some western states the idea has been put to practical use.

The grade crossing problem is a difficult one. Only the closest co-operation of all concerned can solve it. It is said that billions of dollars and many years would be required to abolish railroad crossings and to build underpasses. But the crossing problem will not be set aside until some solution is found.

R. L. Pilling, director of "Safety First" for the L. & N. R. R., states "that this year will show a death toll of approximately 2,500, with those injured coming to about 6,500. Outward of injuries and deaths the property loss both to the railroads and to individuals must be very great. In a recent public statement Mr. Pilling said: "About 70 of the accidents at crossings occur in daylight, and that 63 per cent occur at crossings where the view at the crossings is hidden.

"Fourteen per cent are caused by drivers colliding with the sides of moving trains. "It has been found many automobile drivers are incompetent, either from physical inability, such as to see distinctly; and mentally incompetent by not knowing how to read or write, while many drivers know next to nothing about how to control a car. Many drivers at crossings are said to be intoxicated and some cannot hear well."

Thanks to unusual care at the railroad crossings in this vicinity, no fatalities and few injuries have been reported in many years. But "eternal vigilance" is the price of life and limb. Entirely too many chances are taken here, at the crossings. Car drivers are said to "keep on coming," even when they hear the electric alarms at the crossings. Such a practice is a very dangerous one at all times, especially for any who would attempt to cross in front of the very fast trains.

Innumerable estimates placed the crowds here on Thursday all the way from the conservative figure of four to five thousand to the very doubtful figure of ten to twelve thousand. No matter what the estimate of visitors that journeyed to the cities of Albany and Decatur on the day that had been set aside for them the people of the twin cities have surely accomplished what might be termed a master stroke in gaining the friendship and esteem of the people that go to make up the vast trades area of approximately forty thousand which Albany and Decatur serve every day of the year.

There wasn't a dissenting voice among the visiting countians. Every one of them voiced a loud approval of the day's proceedings from the introduction of the speakers and the music of the band in the morning program to the games and the aeroplane stunts that closed the afternoon. They were pleased and right that they should be. The merchants, the civic bodies, individuals, ladies, newspapers have all taken an active part in the preparations and the workings of the day and there was no chance for the greatest gathering of a single day in Morgan county to be disappointed. All that remained to be done to make the day an absolute success beyond all doubt was for the visitors to attend in great numbers and they came. From the farms of Morgan, Limestone, Colbert, Cullman and even Lauderdale the people poured until late afternoon. It was a case of realization greater than anticipation. They came to see what Albany-Decatur had been telling them about and they found it. The hospitality of a friendly people who are interested in the problems and battles of the agriculturist and people who will go far out of their way to aid in the agricultural growth of the section.

Albany-Decatur also had a surprise in store in the numbers that came. The great fires that had been lighted sometime during Wednesday night in preparation for the noon hour proved inadequate for the wants of the visitors. Every provision was used for those who came to see what Albany-Decatur had to offer. Under all the preparations for the day it is hoped that the gathered thousands looked a little more deep and saw the warmth and friendship that the people of the cities were extending. The folks of Albany-Decatur do not feel that an intended lesson has fallen upon unhearing ears. They hope that the lesson in good will has been sent home to stick.

To the businessmen, and all other classes and individuals who took part in bringing this great lesson of co-operation between townsman and farmer, a word of thanks and congratulation for the untiring efforts, unstinted giving of time and money, the service to their cities and the smaller communities and farms. You have accomplished something that was thought well-nigh impossible in the response that you were shown through numbers alone. You have taught a lesson in friendship where before there may have been a friendship. You have achieved a success for yourselves and your cities.

SHAWLS, EMBROIDERED, HAND-PAINTED, APPLIQUED AND STRIPED, NOW POPULAR

THE Spanish shawl is a thing of great beauty and a joy forever. It is in a class with exquisite pieces of handmade lace, old silver, Paisley, and all sorts of treasure that is kept in one's family.

It is worth its weight in gold. By its weight of embroidery it is judged and priced; by the length of its fringe it is judged and priced; and last, but not least, by the beauty of its design and coloring it is judged and priced. And, of course, the older it is, the more is its value enhanced.

Its conventional floral design cannot be improved upon. Its colorings cannot be more brilliant, its silk more heavy or lustrous. It is a handwork of exquisite beauty. It is the loveliest wrap for all lovely women. And it is something that every woman wants, and, indeed, something that every fashionable woman should have.

Julia Faye, one of the Paramount players featured in Cecil B. DeMille's newest picture, "Feet of Clay," is the proud possessor of two Spanish shawls. These she has draped into a picturesque costume. One shawl is draped into a straight lined gown and the other forms a shawl-cape. The colorings are the most brilliant scarlets and pinks and magentas and greens.

In the sketch at the lower left of the above layout, a hand-painted shawl is shown, with a fur collar. Hand-painted shawls like this are becoming more and more popular and artists of note are turning their thoughts and genius to creating new designs for them. Every week brings forth new creations, some of them actually signed by well known artists. Their decorations run from tropical jungle scenes, through Egyptian patterns of startling and primitive beauty, to the delicate traceries of Japanese art.

Then there are the georgette shawls that every woman can make for herself. They are of double layers, sometimes of the same color, and sometimes with one layer of one shade and the other layer of another. In the circle above, one layer of the georgette is wine color and the other tangerine, with applique designs of a deep purple, sewn on with gold threads.

At the right a long, wide, brilliant Roman shawl is shown, such as is purchased in Italy.

the hundreds of pounds of boiled ham would not have been sufficient had it not been for the baskets of good things to eat.

Everything Free.

Nothing whatever was sold at the picnic grounds. Everything was free and the thousands of visitors were more than welcome to the feast and the program of entertainment which had been arranged. Through the courtesy of Mr. Malone the pool was open free to the guests; several baseball games were played during the day in the athletic field; air attractions were furnished by aviators brought here for the occasion from Corinth, Miss., there was a beautiful doll parade and many attractive and valuable souvenirs were given away by local merchants.

The perfect weather and intensive advertising had much to do with the arrival of so many thousands.

Taken in the inverse order of their appearance, the three principal speakers of the occasion were: Mrs. W. B. Edmundson, Edward A. O'Neal and Congressman J. Lister Hill of Montgomery.

Mrs. Edmundson warned the large audience in the afternoon that unless farmers were given greater encouragement, they were destined to desert the lands of Morgan County and of the entire Southland.

Mr. O'Neal showed that the cotton association of the farm bureau, in two years time, had been able to bring the price of cotton to about 28 cents and keep it there, whereas in the past 6 years the average cotton price has been only 13 cents a pound, and that in the years 1891 to 1905 the average price was only 6 cents.

Mr. O'Neal said that only during the last months of the world war and for a year after the war, had cotton reached above the average of 13 cents but that the bureau controlling only about 1,000,000 bales of the staple two years and assured the farmer of a living price for his cotton. Mr. O'Neal said that cotton had produced more millionaires than coal or iron or steel, but that the producers of the staple has been getting only about 15 per cent of the value of the cotton.

Mr. O'Neal said cotton had been making rich men every place except in the South in the last 200 years, but with more cotton being spun and woven into cloth in the South than ever before, and with a good promise of fair prices for the staple in the future, the South was destined to grow rich on its cotton crops.

Flying Machines Came From Corinth

In less time than a mile a minute the flying machine came from Corinth Miss. Pilot Roscoe Turner, having brought Earle E. Cobb his "wing-walker" from the Mississippi city in 90 minutes.

While here the aviators rescued a balloon that escaped from its moorings here, finding the balloon in a tree top beyond the Tennessee river.

DAVIS' COLORADO CAMPAIGN ENDED

(Associated Press)

DENVER, Col., Sept. 12—John W. Davis, democratic presidential candidate, was ready today to conclude his campaign in Colorado with rear platform speeches at Brighton and Greeley en route to Cheyenne, Wyoming where tonight he will deliver the third of his series of addresses scheduled for the West.

Speaking here last night to an audience which taxed the capacity of the municipal auditorium, Mr. Davis met the recent claims of the republican leaders that his party is putting forth too many issues, with the declaration that he would meet them on a single ground, the record of administration of government in the past five years.

Summing up his indictment of the republican administration, the democratic standard bearer said "it had adopted a foreign policy unsuited alike to the dignity and interests of the American people."

Georgia Lady Says She Has Grown Stronger by Taking Cardui—Thoroughly Convinced of Its Merits.

Citaville, Ga.—In a statement which she gave at her home on R. P. D. 1, here, Mrs. T. A. Copeland said: "I have, I believe, avoided a good deal of suffering by the use of Cardui, and am thoroughly convinced that it has been of great benefit to me."

"Before the birth of two of my children, I grew so weak and nervous I could hardly go, and suffered. I had a friend who told me of Cardui, so the next time when I grew so weak and run-down I began to use it. I used it three months. I grew stronger and less nervous. The baby was stronger and a better baby, and I really believe it was because I built up my strength with this splendid tonic."

Cardui has been in successful use for more than forty years. Thousands of women have written to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others. It is a mild, harmless, purely vegetable medicinal preparation—a product of practical experience, scientific investigation and pharmaceutical skill. Sold everywhere. NC-159

Fliers Recapture
Truant Balloon

One of the interesting events of Thursday's gala day here and one not on the original program, was the recapture of the truant Goodyear balloon by the visiting aviators after the big bag had gotten away from its moorings at the Frank P. Lide tire station, over which it had been flying to advertise the Goodyear balloon tires for several days.

During the morning the large crowd which held the balloon in place broke away and the big bag began soaring, finally cutting away in a north-westerly direction. By coincidence, one of the visiting airmen stopped by the tire plant a short time afterward to get the tire of his plane repaired, and Mr. Lide quickly made arrangements with the visitors to catch the balloon.

Something Must Be Done and Done Darn Quick, Too

Tens of thousands of thin, run-down men—yes, and women too—are getting discouraged—are giving up all hope of ever being able to take on flesh and look healthy and strong.

All such people can stop worrying and start to smile right now for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets which any druggists will tell you all about, is putting flesh on hosts of skinny folks every day. One woman tired, weak and discouraged, put on 15 pounds in five weeks and feels fine.

We all know that Cod Liver Oil is full of flesh producing vitamins but many people can't take it because of its horrible smell and fishy taste, and because it often upsets the stomach.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets are as easy to take as candy, and if any thin person don't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist will give you your money back—and only 60 cents for 60 tablets. Ask Albany Drug Co., or any live pharmacist anywhere.

O'Neal Guest of the Kiwanis Club

The Morgan Kiwanis Club at its meeting of this week held at the R. R. Y. M. C. A. had as guests of honor Edward A. O'Neal, president of the Alabama Farm Bureau, and R. M. Shearer, local manager of the Alabama Power Company.

Mr. O'Neal spoke at some length, following the delicious meal served. The distinguished visitor, called attention, to the necessity of Southern business men co-operating with Southern farmers. He said that Northern farmers' incomes were far in advance of the incomes of Southern farmers, and that cooperation in the north between all classes had greatly improved business conditions. It was shown that unless bankers, merchants and other business men aided and advised with Southern farmers, business conditions would never improve as they should. Mr. O'Neal complimented the people of the Twin Cities on the good time they gave the many thousands who attended the community picnic Thursday.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Youth will be served. It is too much to expect this restless generation to settle down by the fireside before its fling is over. Mrs. Fannie Brooks, aged ninety-one and a resident, evidently through some mistake as to her actual age, of a home for the aged, borrowed a dime from a fellow resident and started out to see something of the world. She visited friends and relatives in nearby suburbs, somehow getting about on her borrowed dime, and finally arrived at the home of a Brooklyn lawyer. Afraid the heads of the home were worried at the disappearing film at West Point. As Mrs. Brooks, he notified them, and now she is once more settled down, but maybe only temporarily.

The onslaught upon the ranks of actors by heretofore members of the leisure world continues. The latest society woman of wealth to seek the footlights is Mrs. Alice Laidley Harriman, daughter-in-law of Mrs. Oliver Harriman, has entered the cast of "Classmates," a motion picture being filmed at West Point. As Mrs. Harriman is a member of the committee for better pictures, it seems reasonable enough for the family to begin to help making them.

Politics is having its effect upon fashions—as well as fashions upon politics. The "voting frock" is the latest display of one costume-maker who points out that it is achieved as an ideal campaign costume for women who are rushing about pinning buttons on people, as well as an appropriate outfit for appearance at the polls themselves. "A woman cannot be too frivolous nor yet to sombre on such occasions," he explains. "Here is a solution of her problem."

We expect the dogs at a dog show and the horses at a horse show to be expensive creatures. But who ever heard of a fish, just one single finny creature being worth $200. It's outside of nature. But that is the price put upon several of them—apiece—at the Brooklyn Aquarium Society's exposition. It looked just like a fish and it was named a fish by the exhibitors, but it just must have been something else at that price I insist.

This is international courtesy carried far. An English cricket team arrived from Southampton this week to play a series of match games in this country and it was discovered that the team had been carefully selected, not so much for their expertise at the game but because they were all teetotalers. The club was unwilling to violate international politeness, it seemed, by sending to this country any players who ever, even at home, indulged in beer or stronger drink.

than the silks and precious stones of the ancient Egyptians or the golden mosaics of the Pharaohs. Spears and arrows with which relentless warfare was waged among the tribes and which sent death into the intrepid hearts of the encroaching whites, were found in abundance and even the flint quarry from which the stones were taken has been located under a bluff along the banks of the majestic Tennessee.

Mortars, pestles, pottery and bone needles with drilled eyes: silent proof of the never ending search for civilization and of the march of progress even among the savages, to whom the creation of a single new implement was more important than the airplanes which circle our skies. Bone beads: a testimonial of the vanity engendered with Eve. Drills, scrapers, reamers and hammer stones—the handy tool of the savage. Bone ceremonial, stag horn skewers and literally dozens of stag horn arrow chipping tools were found. It is interesting to note that copper in the free state such as was used in making the ornaments is found only in the Lake Superior region, indicating the wide travels of the original settlers of this county; and that sea shells from the distant Atlantic are abundant in the mounds.

The mound itself, to the discerning mind, is an object of great interest. Constructed entirely of periwinkle and mussel shells, under which are buried bones of wolf, buffalo and elk, indicates that it was originally formed from camp debris, proof positive of the use of this spot as a camp-site for many, many years. It is fifteen feet high and contains in the neighborhood of 68,000 square yards. Who knows but that when Richard, "The Lion Hearted," was hammering at the gates of Jerusalem with his hosts of Crusaders, raised from the sale of the highest offices of his dominion, but that the braves and the squaws of all the nations of the land round about were congregated upon the shores of the Tennessee at historic Muscle Shoals, there to attend the annual low-water festival, when mussels and periwinkles might be had in abundance from the rocks in the shoals?

Who knows but that when Columbus embarked with his frail vessels from Genoa in the year 1492, but that the mighty chiefs of the Indian nations smoked their pipes of peace under the overhanging limestone bluffs which are blackened with the smoke of a myriad of camps? Who knows but that when DeSoto made his memorable march to the "Father of Waters" but that the alarm of his approach was heralded from the rocky cliffs surrounding the rushing river? Who knows but that the depleted ranks of the fearless red skin formed their final assembly on the banks of their beloved Tennessee, before retiring from Andrew Jackson's hardy pioneers? Who knows, who knows? Many of the splendid finds recorded were brought to Courtland Sunday by Mr. Fowke and J. G. Sanderson of this city, and placed on display in the windows of Pippen's drug store where they attract much attention. A skeleton, found by Mr. Sanderson, has been forwarded to the National Museum, and has been identified as of the pre-Columbian age, and will be preserved in the museum since Alabama is but poorly represented in relics there, although rich in such. Two skeletons have been presented to the museum by Mr. Sanderson so far.

Dr. Fukes, the internationally known Curator of the National Museum and Smithsonian Institute has become very much interested in the finds recorded from this neighborhood and has expressed a desire to visit this section. It is quite probable that he will appear on the scene before many more days have elapsed. Local people are displaying much interest in the explorations and are to be found on the scene with the study Mr. Fowke daily.

5 Operations—15 years suffering with constipation—Kellogg's Bran restores health

Mr. Lansing's case is typical of thousands of others. He found permanent relief from constipation in Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Read what he says:

Dear Sir:

I have been afflicted with constipation for the past 15 years, and during that time I have been in four different hospitals and submitted to five different operations that were the result of constipation. I was getting so bad that every meal I ate caused me to vomit. Two months ago I was advised to eat your Kellogg's Bran. I tried it, and I was trying everything I could think of. From that day on I have never taken a physic. My stomach does not sour any more and my bowels move regularly morning and evening. Yours sincerely, Frank Lansing, 1206 Jetties Ave., Marion, Ind.

For permanent relief, eat Kellogg's Bran regularly. Two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money.

You will like the delicious nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran—so different from ordinary bran, which are unpalatable. Eat Kellogg's Bran with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the recipes given on the package.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumpled, is served by leading hotels and clubs in individual packages. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.
